

1875 Microfilm Shows Biblical Creation Rewritten per Darwin Evolution

ALLENTOWN, Penn., Jan. 30, 2019 /Standard News-wire/ -- A 144-year-old piece of microfilm shows how Biblical Creation in Genesis would be rewritten, and replaced, if 19th century Darwinian evolutionists had their way at the time. The microfilm is so small, that it requires a laboratory microscope to read it. "It is about the size of a single snowflake," says Frank DeFreitas, a retired laser holographer. DeFreitas is a collector of microscopic and nano-scale Biblical scripture and art. He lives in Allentown, Pennsylvania. The microfilm was acquired by DeFreitas through a microscopical broker located in the United Kingdom. The U.K. is the 19th century birthplace of Charles Darwin, father of the theory of evolution.

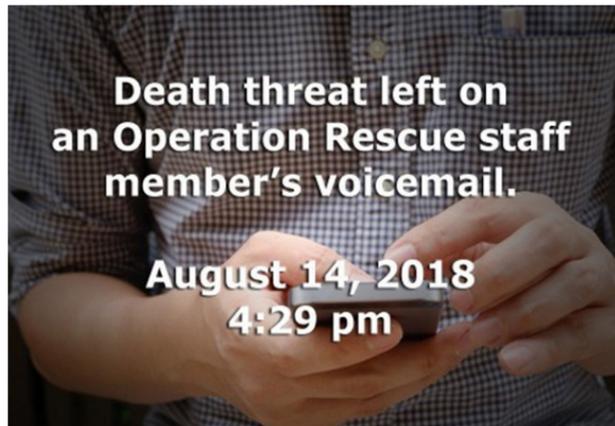

Properly termed micro-photography, it was developed in the United Kingdom by microscopist John Benjamin Dancer in the mid- 1800s. It was the highest level of imaging science and technology of its day. It would eventually lead to 20th century micro computer circuits that would send satellites into space, and take mankind to the moon and beyond. DeFreitas says that he believes that it was used by its maker, a Mr. Edward Wheeler, as a curiosity during his lecture circuit. "Wheeler was a very successful manufacturer of high-end brass microscopes in the 19th century. His passion was lecturing, and he was very well known in England at the time." Evolution was a hot topic during the time period of the microfilm. Especially well-attended debates between evolutionists and Biblical Creationists. "I am a Biblical Creationist according to the exact record of the first book of Moses, Genesis," says DeFreitas categorically. "I believe that this piece of microfilm provides hard, indisputable physical evidence of an intention to undermine the creation account of the Holy Bible ... or why would it have ever been written in the first place?" DeFreitas has created a McAfee secure Genesis-Darwin Microfilm Web Page that contains photos taken through his microscope, and a full transcription of the microfilm content. www.wondersofthebible.org

Man Charged in Federal Court for Threatening to Kill and Rape Operation Rescue Staff and Family Members

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 30, 2019 /Christian News-wire/ -- A Kansas man was charged in Federal Court yesterday with making threats last August to kill Operation Rescue staff members and rape their daughters. Christopher M. Thompson, 22, faces three counts of threatening communications for a series of phone calls to Operation Rescue's office and to one staff member's cell phone. He faces a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $250,000 fines for each count. Thompson told a female Operation Rescue employee that he was going to kill her and her entire family after he sexually assaulted two female family members. He said that he had often followed the staffer and female family members around Wichita, Kansas, the location of Operation Rescue's national headquarters, and said he knew where the staffer lived. In addition to the threats of murder and sexual violence, the messages also contained disturbing satanic overtones. "We are very relieved that this man has been criminally charged. We take threats like this very seriously and always report them to law enforcement. We simply are not going to take any risks with the safety of our staff and our families," said Troy Newman, President of Operation Rescue. "We look forward to the conclusion of this case and pray justice will be served." Our nation was founded on free speech and to try to intimidate those who exercise it is communistic to say the least. Pray for our nation and for those controlled by this murderous spirit. Exercise your spiritual authority and bind it up in Jesus Name!*

Exposed-Abortion Pill by Mail Study has Population Control Motive

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 16, 2019 /Christian Newswire/ -- Operation Rescue has released a new investigative exposé detailing a new abortion pill distribution scheme that is delivering abortion pills to women in five states using a smart phone app and the U.S. Postal Service. Operation Rescue found that Gynuity Health Projects, the organization that is conducting the abortion pill-by-mail study, is funded by a "who's who" of foundations that support and promote abortion and population control, including Planned Parenthood, the Rockefeller Foundation, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and others. The new report includes a video featuring an undercover conversation between an Operation Rescue investigator and an employee of Planned Parenthood Columbia Wilamette that explains the experimental abortion drug distribution process. There is also a concern that in an effort to control costs that must be paid by women involved in the study, women may seek to exploit free ultrasound exams offered by pro-life pregnancy help centers that are morally opposed to abortions, making them unwitting participants in the abortion process. "This is not about helping women. It is not even about making a profit, although there is profit to be made in this low-overhead process," said Newman. "It is really about coming up with a plan to kill as many babies as possible, as cheaply as possible, while having the least interaction with their abortion customers. These people have no concern for women except to make sure they do not produce. Their depopulation agenda is appalling and destructive to families and society. The FDA must end this abortion scam now." Read Operation Rescue's investigative exposé: "Abortion Pill by Mail Study Has Population Control Motive."
